RASCALS

Faubus contributed to his defeat.
Faubus' stoutest supporters in the legislature fell like dominoes.
And Frank Holt, the loser in the runoff for governor, battled continually through the campaign against a charge that he was the administration candidate.
Jim Johnson, winner of the gubernatorial runoff, may have set the winds of change in motion.
He attacked the administration more vigorously than any other candidate. He said at a press association meeting that the people were demanding a change and that if they didn't get it the Democratic primary they might turn to Republican Winthrop Rockefeller in November.
Johnson made campaign capital of the slogan: "Your only choice for a change."
Faubus said he did not believe that defeat of his friends was a slap at his administration.
Undoubtedly tax increases passed by the 1965 legislature and reapportionment, which forced many legislative veterans to run in alien territory, were factors.
But the list of Faubus allies in the legislature who were cut down is long and impressive.
The most convincing defeat was suffered by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem, a Faubus floor leader for the last several sessions.
Van Dalsem was demolished by Herbert Rule in a race for Position 13 in District 22, the new Pulaski-Perry County district.

Defends the Closing of a University

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Let's not mention his name. He's a Belgian by birth, Argentine by adoption, in his 20s and a Jew. He also is a student at the University of Buenos Aires, now shut by the new military government of Argentina.
"The government had to do it," he said, leaning back in the front seat of the taxi he drives to get eating money while he's studying. "It's the way they did it."

He was talking about the government's takeover of his school and the brutality that accompanied the takeover.
"Look," he said in respectfully fluent English, "the university spent all its time on politics. It had to be reorganized."
"Don't mistake me, I was not for the government but there were two ways they could have taken over. They could have done it quietly, moving in without clubbing guys. And they could have done it the way they did it — the wrong way."
"That's all I'm saying. Sure, there are a lot of Communists among the professors and among the students. There was more emphasis on politics than on studying, but some of the schools were pretty good."

"They'll open classes, but they have to find people to teach them. It isn't too bad in my college but there's a scarcity of technical people. The two top professors of mathematics, I understand, are in Russia, and two others are in Lima. Will they come back? I don't know. You can't replace them."
The student, a stocky, black-haired, serious type, pushed his glasses up on his nose.
"I haven't seen any signs of anti-Semitism yet," he said.
"The first big mistake this government made was when Interior Minister Enrique Martinez Pas granted an hour-long interview to the head of the Tacuara."

The Tacuara is a nationalist Fascist-type organization often blamed for violence.
"High dignitaries of the Jewish community talked to President (Gen. Juan Carlos) Onganía and he promised them, and (Buenos Aires Police Chief Enrique) Green did, too, that there would be no action taken against Jews, or any minority."
The University of Buenos Aires has 80,000 students, all now barred from classes until Aug. 16. They have no idea if their teachers will be back. Nearly 1,000 of a faculty of 2,000

Whipped African, Out on Bond

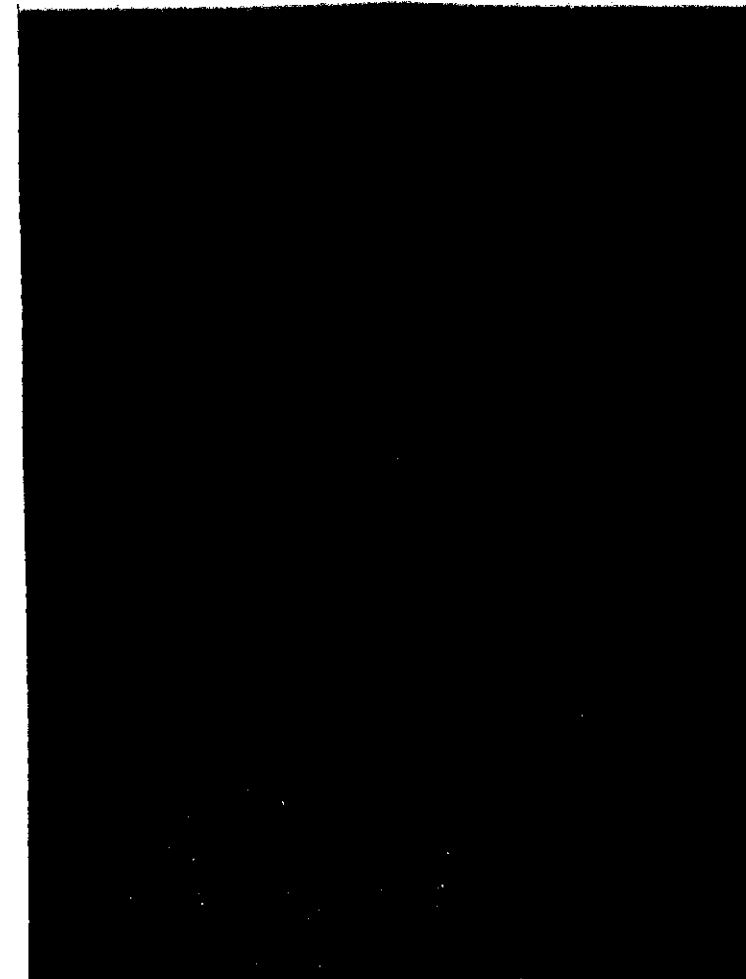

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The son of the vice president of Prime Minister Ian Smith's party was free on bail today awaiting appeal of a four-month sentence for whipping an African.

Chesney Lilford, 28, was sentenced and released on $280 bail Wednesday after Magistrate J. H. Wallace heard testimony that Lilford stripped, handcuffed and beat an African whom he suspected of terrorist activity.

Wallace said the whipping was "a cowardly and despicable offense" and reprimanded Lilford for not going to the police with his suspicions rather than trying to beat a confession out of the man.

Lilford was convicted in 1959 of beating five Africans. He was fined $448.

CHAMPION TROUBLE-GETTER-INTO

Dear Helen: I do more stupid things and get myself into more trouble in one day than five groups of hoods do in a life-time. I am a jinx to myself.

Here's one of my better days: First I woke up — that's bad enough. Then I forgot to do my chores and got my allowance docked.

I had a baseball game that day, but the doctor told me I shouldn't play because of a torn knee. Then I thought I'd go to the beach and get some sun. What's wrong in that?

I'll tell you what's wrong: After the game, along comes the guy who gets me in the most trouble. He wouldn't believe about my leg and is going to tell the manager of the team I was swimming, when I should be playing baseball, so I may get kicked off the team.

At the beach I also lost a brand new expensive beach towel that a girl took by mistake, and my father's $4.50 sunglasses, and got sunburned.

This is just an example. I've had lots worse days. How can I unjinx myself? — UNLUCKY JINX

Dear Jinx: Think ahead! When you learn to stop and reason, "If I do this, then THIS might happen," you'll soon become a jinx-breaker. — H.

Dear Helen: Nice kids with their nice easy little problems won't believe this, but it happens a lot where there's no place to go but the street and nothing to do but what everybody does — get in trouble. I'm a slum kid.

I'm in the 10th grade and I've had to "go away" three times because of this boy. He won't let me date others. Every time there is another boy near me he is furious and ready to kill.

Each morning he picks me up and makes me stay with him all day, and threatens to hurt my mother if I won't go. He steals. . . . He sells dope too, m. . . . He sells dope too, mostly marijuana and pills.

I don't have a father and my mother works at two jobs, house-keeping. She hates me because I've been in trouble. Everyone thinks I'm no good, and I think so too. I help him do bad things because I'm scared. Maybe it's easier, I don't know. But I want out. Help! — Afraid to Give My Name and the Real Facts

Dear Afraid: There's only one way out, and that is by way of the Juvenile Court. Turn yourself in and ask for protection. I predict you'll be placed in a good foster home, and this hood will be placed where he is no longer a threat to you or your mother. — H.

Dear Helen: To the 19-year-old "Victim of outdated social restrictions": I found out in the long run it pays to go along with your parents. I was also 14 when I met this wonderful 19-year-old boy. Instead of fighting my folks about dating, I compromised and asked that he be invited to Sunday dinners occasionally.

Today I'm 21 and he's 26. He has finished college and I got bells will soon ring. So you see,

One Shot, 23 Jailed in Detroit Riot

By KIT KINCADE
DETROIT (AP) — Police arrested 39 Negro and white youths Wednesday night in a racially mixed neighborhood on Detroit's East Side where a Negro man was shot during a brick and fire bomb fight.

The Negro, Tyrone Powers, 26, suffered a shoulder wound. He said three white men in a passing car fired at him.

A brick was hurled through the window of another car, injuring the driver. The auto crashed into the porch of a house.

Some of those arrested were charged with arson and others were booked for offenses ranging from possession of explosives to inciting a riot.

It was the second straight night of racial violence in the neighborhood.

Helmeted police carrying shotguns and rifles with bayonets kept most of the trouble-makers bottled up inside a five-block area near the plush suburb of Grosse Pointe.

As they swept methodically through the troubled zone the police were the targets of insults and obscenities.

A few bottles thrown by roving bands of youths shattered at the feet of the police. No policemen were reported injured. Plate glass windows on several storefronts were smashed by bricks and glass littered the streets.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said Detroit's 4,000 policemen would continue on 12-hour shifts until the neighborhood returned to normal. All leaves have been canceled.

"I feel we had control of this situation at all times tonight," Girardin said. "We had more police than on Tuesday night and more officers saw crimes committed—that's why we could make more arrests."

"Small gangs couldn't disappear and reappear somewhere else like they did the night before."

"We had more active participation today by citizens who were trying to cool this off—both Negro and white citizens."

A steady rain which fell most of the night also was credited with helping keeping outbreaks to a minimum.

Fire bombs were thrown onto at least two stores but the blazes were extinguished quickly.

Among those arrested were seven white youths—five boys and two girls—who police said were found with homemade fire bombs in their car.

Shortly after the renewed violence broke out, police ordered all bars and liquor stores closed in the trouble area.

Girardin said he had no evidence that the outbreak was organized or stirred up by outside agitators.

"I don't see any direction in this thing," he commented. "I don't see this as a protest against a specific thing."

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Television personality Art Linkletter has been released from St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica after two days of tests related to a back pain showed nothing serious, a hospital spokesman said.

Lunar Orbit Is Speeding in Space

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A camera-toting scout, Lunar Orbiter, sped through space today on its mission to photograph the moon and help locate a level spot where astronauts may camp later in the 1970s.

The mission of the 850-pound spacecraft, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 3:26 p.m. EDT Wednesday aboard an Atlas-Agena rocket combination, is to orbit the moon, photograph possible landing sites, measure radiation and detect micrometeorite density.

After liftoff scientists reported the craft in a trajectory that, without correction, would make it miss the moon by 5,600 miles at the end of its 90-hour, 235,466-mile trip.

But a midcourse maneuver was planned for sometime between 20 and 30 hours after liftoff, and after the craft's sensors had locked onto the sun and a guiding star, Canopus.

One of Orbiter's sensors locked onto the sun 49 minutes into the flight and, at 10:21 p.m., the craft was ordered to roll 360 degrees while another sensor searched for Canopus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Agency spokesman said two hours later that Orbiter had filed to find Canopus on its first roll.

Many of these and other depressed persons do not seek medical aid because they do not realize that they are ill, for financial reasons or because they fear nothing can be done for them. In recent years, however, great strides have been made in the treatment of anxiety and depression.

The judicious use of tranquilizers has benefited many depressed persons. A new product, Etrafon, which is a combination of perphenazine, a tranquilizer, and amitripty-line, an antidepressant, has been used successfully to treat not only mild depressions but also schizophrenia,
a severe mental disturbance.
In some mental hospitals it was found to be preferable in every way to electric shock treatments.

The only side effect observed has been drowsiness which has been considered a small price to pay for improved spirits. The drug is available only on a doctor's

Q—My husband was diagnosed in 1962 as having amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.
Could it have started as early as 1953? Can it be detected early in its course? Is it curable?

A—In this disease the nerves supplying the muscles are affected. The involved muscles become rigid then waste away. Heredity is a factor in its cause. The di-agnosis is often delayed because the onset is insidious and the disease progresses slowly at first but the progress becomes increasingly rapid within two to five years.
Eventually the diaphragm becomes involved and the only treatment is an iron lung.
There is no cure.

Anxiety and Depression
Need Not Ruin Your Life

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Anxiety and depression affect millions of Americans and probably cause more human suffering than any other condition. The cause varies widely but is generally attributed to emotional turmoil created by the stress of modern living.

Since all of these symptoms may also be seen in various organic diseases, a thorough search to rule out organic causes must be made. When these have been ruled out, there still remains the problem (often insoluble) of pinpointing the underlying cause.

The diagnosis may be difficult because the symptoms include insomnia, chronic fatigue, listlessness, loss of appetite, loss of weight, irritability, nervous tension, digestive upsets and headache.

Unfortunately, our inability to recognize the early signs of depression or to eliminate the cause is in part responsible for a conservatively estimated 20,000 suicides in the United States each year. The number

(matter of fact)

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, foremost Antarctic explorer of the 20th century, spent the polar winter of 1934 buried alone in a tiny hut many feet below the surface of the snow. Carbon monoxide fumes nearly cost him his life before his unrequested relief arrived after five months of this experiment, made to study the effect of polar environment on man.

WIN AT BRIDGE

A letter from Victoria, British Columbia, reads in part: "Here is a hand that has caused a lot of discussion in our duplicate group. The bidding was opened with one spade at all tables. West always overcalled with clubs and after North and East passed South rebid to two hearts."

"Half of the North players promptly jumped to four hearts, the other half bid only three. After three hearts was bid there was another 50-50 division. Half the South players continued to game, the other half passed. We would like your opinion on the correct bidding of this hand."

Actually, if fractional bids were allowed we would favor three-quarter hearts with the North hand. For this reason we recommend the jump to four in preference to the mere raise to three.

When North merely raises to three, South also has a tough problem. Again it would be nice to be able to make a fractional bid in hearts. But those wonderful bids aren't allowed so we dodge the issue by suggesting that South go to four unless he knows that his partner is a decided overbidder.

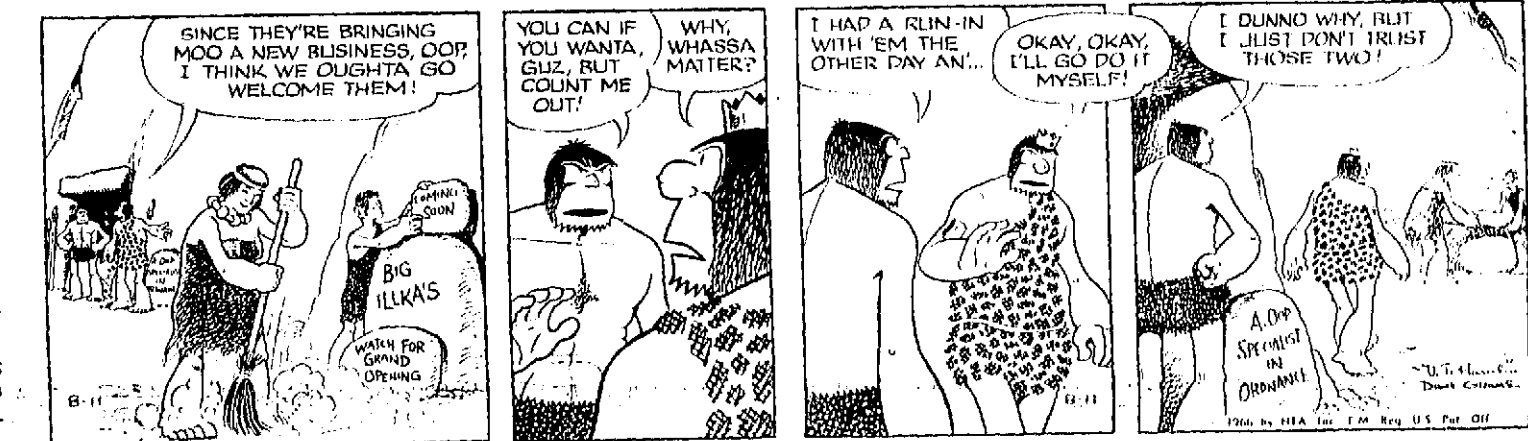

With hearts breaking 2-2 there is no way to go down at four hearts but there is a correct way to play the hand. Assume that West cashes three clubs and shifts to a trump South should win, cash the ace of spades and ace of diamonds and claim the rest of the tricks by means of a cross-ruff.

Orioles Rap Yanks, Tovar Saves Twins

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cesar Tovar, the handy man in Minnesota's infield and outfield, has picked up his first save as a relief pitcher.

The versatile Venezuelan rescued Jim (Mudcat) Grant twice Wednesday night with perfect strikes from left field as the Twins blanked California 2-0 and snapped a three-game losing string.

Rich Bollins and Harmon Killebrew homered for Minnesota and Tovar, making his first appearance in the outfield since May 31, protected the margin—Grant's second straight shutout—by cutting down California runners at the plate in the first and seventh innings.

In the first, Jose Cardenal singled, stole second and raced for home on Jim Fregosi's single. But Tovar nailed the swift Angel with a bullet peg to catcher Earl Battey.

In the seventh, with runners on first and third and one out, Tovar grabbed Tom Seaver's short fly ball and fired another strike to Battey, doubling up Bob Rodgers and snuffing out the Angels' last threat.

Tovar started his second season with the Twins in center field but was benched after playing 20 games. In July he filled in at shortstop for the injured Zoilo Versalles and hit at a .300 clip. When Versalles returned to the lineup, Tovar moved over to second base and stayed there until Wednesday night.

"Tovar plays the game hard," says roommate Tony Oliva, "and he can play anywhere. If he plays every day, he'll hit .300."

In other games Wednesday, league-leading Baltimore pounded New York 9-4, Chicago whipped Kansas City 9-2, Boston blanked Cleveland 2-0 and Washington tripped Detroit 6-3 in 12 innings.

Pittsburgh shelled New York 10-4, Atlanta upended Los An-

Legion Play Continues at Blytheville

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP) — North Little Rock meets Little Rock and West Memphis takes on defending champion Blytheville tonight in winner's bracket action in the American Legion state baseball tournament.

Two teams will be eliminated this afternoon when first-day losers collide with each other. The schedule sends Pine Bluff against Bryant and Fort Smith against Batesville.

In Wednesday's games Blytheville rolled to its 41st victory in 46 games by stopping Fort Smith 10-4; North Little Rock outlasted Pine Bluff 16-14 in 12 innings; Little Rock clipped Bryant 9-3 and West Memphis beat Batesville 6-1.

Pine Bluff scored four runs in the eighth inning and seven runs in the ninth to force North Little Rock to go extra innings. Gary De Salvo's two-run double in the 12th gave North Little Rock the victory.

Rain halted play for two hours during the Batesville-West Memphis game but it did not halt the effectiveness of pitcher Charlie Williams who hurled an eight-hitter. Catcher James Scifres had four hits and drove in three runs for West Memphis. Williams fanned 11.

Jim Thurston's three-run homer in the eighth helped Little Rock to its easy victory over Bryant. Bill Simmons, who had an eight-hitter, struck out eight Bryant batters.

Fort Smith held a 3-0 lead going into the bottom of the third, but Blytheville's Sam Singleton hit a two-run homer in the inning that started the winners on a 10-run spree in the third and fourth frames.

The Tigers, who lost a 12-inning 6-3 decision at Washington Wednesday night, lined the top step of the dugout and joined the Senator players and fans in a silent tribute before the game.

The Tigers will wear black armbands for the remainder of the season, starting with Monday night's game against the New York Yankees.

The peppy Dreesen, who managed the Brooklyn Dodgers when they won National League pennants in 1952 and 1953, had mounded the Tigers into his finest team since the Dodgers.

geles 3-1 and Philadelphia beat St. Louis 5-1 in National League play. The San Francisco-Cincinnati and Houston-Chicago games were rained out.

Grant, who has pitched three straight complete-game victories for a 9-12 season mark, checked the Angels on eight hits in a duel with left-hander Clyde Wright.

Wright yielded only five hits in eight innings but one of them was Rollins' seventh home run in the sixth. Killebrew drilled his 23rd homer off reliever Minnie Rojas in the ninth.

Curt Blefary, back in the Baltimore lineup after sitting out 11 games with a shoulder injury, walloped two homers and Boog Powell hit a three-run shot as the Orioles pounded the Yankees.

Dick Hall relieved starter Eddie Watt in the third inning, pitched the rest of the way to his fifth victory in seven decisions, and sent the Orioles ahead to stay in the fourth with a two-run single.

The White Sox won their sixth in a row behind left-hander Gaylord Perry who shut out Baltimore until the ninth, before being helped himself with a home run and single while Pete West muffed a three-run double in the White Sox's 10th attack.

Don Lutz's three-run home run in the 12th turned the Senators' last best effort and dropped the outcasted Tigers 11 games out of the playoff. Washington's Paul West and Detroit's Fred West also homered in the 11th after the Senators led 1-0 in the ninth. McMillen's last-inning single in the eighth.

Boston's Lee Stange pitched nine hits and stranded 11 base runners in shutting out the Indians 9-0. Tony Oliva's second homer and Tony Oliva's single helped the Twins to the first six.

Phils Batter Cards and Dodgers Slip

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chris Short admits he's not afraid any more, but he was scared stiff when he made a mistake against Lou Brock.

Short, Philadelphia's stylish left-hander, lost his perfect game on Brock's seventh inning single and finished with a three-hitter Thursday night as the Phillies thumped St. Louis 5-1.

The first 19 batters he faced went down quietly and Short, who had pitched a pair of two-hitters earlier this season, was breezing when Brock came up with one out in the seventh.

"When the pitch to Brock got up toward the plate, I knew it was the wrong one," Short said. "It was a high slider, right in the wheelhouse."

Brock jumped on it for a single to center, quickly swiped second for his 47th steal of the season and rode home on Curt Flood's hit, spoiling not only the perfect game and no-hitter but shutout as well.

Short gave up one other single and earned his 13th victory of the season. He struck out six and walked none. And he didn't even use a green weenie.

That whammy weapon belongs to the Pittsburgh Pirates, who opened up a 1 1/2 game lead in the National League race with a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets. Third place Los Angeles slipped 2 1/2 games off the pace by dropping its third straight to Atlanta, 3-1.

In the American League, Baltimore battered New York 9-4, Boston shut out Cleveland 2-0, Minnesota blanked California 2-0, Chicago whipped Kansas City 9-2 and Washington downed Detroit 6-3 in 12 innings.

Short said he has conquered his fear of right-handed batters and that has made him a better pitcher this season.

"I used to be scared to throw the ball in toward a right-handed batter," he admitted, "but I'm not now."

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, remained unafraid of anybody with its green weenie and power-packed lineup working in unison.

Announcer Bob Prince and trainer Danny Whelan are the Pirates' chief hex men. They brandish the oversized, colored hot dog at the enemy and presto, the Pirates win.

Jim Pagliaroni and Willie Stargell helped the mysticism along with a pair of two-run homers against the Mets as Vern Law won his eighth game.

The victory widened Pittsburgh's lead to 1 1/2 games over the second place San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Cincinnati. Houston's game at Chicago also was postponed by rain.

Billy Hitchcock isn't using a whammy but he's getting results from his hunches just the same. The new manager of the Braves elevated Felipe Alou to the leadoff spot and for the second straight night, Alou opened the first inning with a home run.

"I told him he was back in the leadoff position because he's done so well there all year," Hitchcock said. "Then I told him, 'After all, after you hit, the score may be 1-0.'"

It happened that way in each of Hitchcock's first two games and helped the Braves complete a three-game sweep of the Dodgers.

Leggett Traded to L. A. Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran defensive tackle Earl Leggett was traded Wednesday to the Los Angeles Rams from the Chicago Bears in exchange for two draft choices next year, the Rams announced.

Giardello Plans to Fight Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello, saying he was getting bored with just sitting, disclosed Wednesday he is coming out of retirement to fight again.

Giardello, 36, who vowed last October he would retire forever, said he will fight Cash White in Reading, Pa., on Sept. 20.

"I just haven't been happy," said Giardello. "I didn't have anything I wanted to do in my life. I was eating too much and drinking too much and staying up too late."

Bob Charles and Bob Goalby matched par. The tournament favorite, Bill Casper, had a 74 while Arnold Palmer shot a 71 along with nine others.

Sikes Shoots Good Round in New Jersey

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — It may come as a surprise to the rest of the fouring pros but Jack Nicklaus says he was a better player when he first hit the golf trail four years ago than he is now.

"I hit the ball better then but I'm older now and a more experienced and better scorer," the 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio, strong boy said as he returned to the scene of his first big paycheck to defend his title in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic beginning today.

In the first Thunderbird back in 1962, Nicklaus finished second to Gene Littler and pocketed $10,000. Since then he has risen to third place on the all-time earnings list — behind Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper — with $478,898.92. That includes his first check of $33.33 in the 1962 Los Angeles Open.

This is the first time since 1962 that the Thunderbird has been played at the Upper Montclair club. Nicklaus posted a 34-36-70 in a pro-amateur charity event Wednesday and he found the par 72, 7,055-yard course pretty much unchanged.

The expansive greens are reasonably fast "with good putting speed," he said. His problem, ironically, was off the tee, where he is golf's longest slugger.

"I was lucky to hit the fairways the way I was playing," Nicklaus said. "I tried a new driver, which I won't use Thursday," he went on, adding that he could easily have reached the 600-yard, par 5 18th green in two shots with a half-decent drive.

Nicklaus' par-equaling 70 was bettered by eight of the 56 pros who toured the course Wednesday. Gay Brewer and Canada's George Knudson posted 68s. At 69 were Al Geiberger, the PGA champion; Lionel Hebert; Tommy Jacobs; Kel Nagle; Dick Sikes, winner of the Cleveland Open last weekend; and Tom Weiskopf, who shot 66 and 67 in earlier practice rounds this week.

Bob Charles and Bob Goalby matched par. The tournament favorite, Bill Casper, had a 74 while Arnold Palmer shot a 71 along with nine others.

Davis to Join Oakland Raiders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Chronicle said Thursday's edition that Al Davis, commissioner of the American Football League until its merger with the National Football League, will return to the Oakland Raiders as a part owner and club president.

Racing Probe Ordered in Michigan

PONTIAC (AP) — Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley asked Wednesday for a one-man grand jury to probe charges of race horse doping, bribery and conspiracy at Hazel Park Race Track.

He was expected to request another one-man grand jury today to investigate Detroit race course.

The action came after Gov. George Romney revealed state police have been investigating the two race tracks for two weeks.

Then he said he would decide within 48 hours whether to ask Wayne County circuit judges to appoint a grand jury. Such a grand jury would follow close on the heels of Edward S. Piggin's, the grand jury who has been investigating other alleged criminal activities in Wayne County. Piggin's term soon will expire.

Kelley charged Wednesday that public officers, state employees and persons licensed by the Michigan Racing Commission have conspired to violate state racing laws at Hazel Park.

He said the unnamed persons "have received money and other valuable considerations for their failure to perform their prescribed duties in enforcing the laws of the state."

LUNAR ORBITER

The mission of an unmanned satellite called Lunar Orbiter is a crucial step toward the United States goal of a man on the moon by 1969. Orbiter is scheduled to circle the moon for a month with a twin-eyed camera in a photographic search for suitable landing sites. At its closest picture-taking pass, the 850-pound spacecraft will skim within 25 miles of the surface.

The camera will snap 16 long-range and 16 close-up pictures of 10 different potential landing sites scattered across the center of the moon. It will photograph the position of Surveyor-1 and also take a peek at the moon's never-seen far side. Close-up pictures will cover areas approximately 2 1/2-by-10 miles, distinguishing objects as small as three feet.

This Boyer Is Helping Other Players

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Cloyd Boyer, brother of Ken of the Mets and Clete of the Yankees, never had much success as a major league pitcher. In a five-year career that ended in 1955, he won 20 games and lost 23.

Yet, Cloyd Boyer is one reason why the majors are full of Denny McLain, Jim Palmer, Woody Frymans and Don Suttons.

Boyer didn't have anything to do with the rapid development of those four pitchers, but he is one of a group of minor league pitching coaches who are partly responsible for the rapid development of a crop of solid young hurlers starring in the majors today.

McLain, Palmer, Fryman and Sutton, ranging in age from 20 to 23, are typical of the young pitchers who have taken little time to mature into major league winners.

McLain, for example, is 22 and in his second full season with Detroit. But in that brief time he has reached such a status that he started for the American League in this year's All-Star Game.

Palmer, 20, is the biggest winner on the staff of the Baltimore Orioles.

Several reasons are offered as to why there are so many successful young hurlers. Primary are the advent of minor league pitching coaches, such as Boyer, and winter instructional programs.

Managers Wes Westrum of the Mets and Ralph Houk of the Yankees discussed the training the pitchers get before they reach the majors.

"They have good teachers—not just at the Triple A level but all the way down to Class A," Westrum said. "Some of the clubs have several minor league pitching coaches going from team to team. The kids are learning how to pitch early. They're not coming up just as throwers."

"Pitchers in the minors get the best coaching possible," Houk said. "They're more highly trained when they get up here faster, and they get up here faster."

"There's also the winter instructional program. This gives a kid a big edge over those in the past. All the top instructors in the organization are on hand for the winter program."

"Hitters don't have it as good as pitchers because a pitcher needs only one guy to work with. If he has a good arm and is willing to listen he can learn."

Bennett Named Tennessee Coach

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP) — Buddy Bennett, who played pro football with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Canadian league, Wednesday was named assistant football coach at East Tennessee State.

Detroit to Start Rookie for Karras

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions were expected to replace their injured defensive bulwark, Alex Karras, with a 22-year-old rookie against the St. Louis Cardinals in a National Football League exhibition game tonight.

Jim Edgerly, a 235-pound free agent picked up from New Mexico State, was coach Harry Gilmer's choice to replace Karras, the team captain, whose badly bruised knee made him a doubtful starter. Karras suffered the injury last Saturday when the Lions tied Minnesota 6-6.

The Detroit squad will be studied with rookies against a powerful Cardinal team whose chief assets are the passing of quarterback Charley Johnson and the running of Bill Triplett and Willis Crenshaw.

St. Louis is considered a top contender for the Eastern Division title in the NFL this year, largely because Cleveland Browns fullback Jim Brown has retired.

The Cardinals, who whipped the new Atlanta Falcons 20-10 in their initial contest, will meet the Lions for the first time in an exhibition game since 1961. The Cards last played in the Motor City in 1959.

Gilmer said rookie running back Bruce McLenna, a Little All-America from Hillsdale (Mich.) College will "get a lot of action." McLenna is expected to be used in combination with starting quarterback Milt Plum and Amos Marsh, the team's leading ground gainer last season.

Newcomer John McGuire, acquired Monday from Baltimore for a future draft choice, was expected to be pressed into the tight end spot held by Ron Kramer. Kramer broke a bone in the back of his hand during scrimmage two weeks ago.

Freshman quarterback Karl Sweetan, 24, of Wake Forest, will play his first National Football League game. "We're anxious to see what Sweetan can do," Gilmer said. Former Northwestern star Tom Myers was picked as the other backup man.

Johnson is regarded as one of the most important factors in the Cardinals' strength—largely because of the fact St. Louis failed to win a game last year after Johnson injured his left shoulder and missed part of the season. He reportedly is fully recovered.

The Lions-Cardinals game starts off an action-packed weekend schedule of 11 exhibitions in the National and American leagues.

On Friday night the Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers battle at Milwaukee in a game that will be nationally televised by CBS. In the AFL on Friday night Denver is at Buffalo and Kansas City at Miami.

Return of Hurler Cheers the Indians

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Lee Stange of the Boston Red Sox qualified for a starring role in "The Perils of Pauline" today while the Cleveland Indians cheered the return to form of southpaw ace Sam McDowell.

Stange, a veteran right-hander obtained from Cleveland in June, struggled to a nine-hit shutout in outduelling McDowell in a 2-0 victory over the Indians Wednesday.

"Every time I turned around someone was getting a hit or getting on base," Stange said. "I had to work all the way."

The Red Sox provided Stange all the cushion he needed when Tony Conigliaro singled after walks to Eddie Kasko and Joe Foy in the fifth inning. George Scott added an insurance run with his 22nd homer, a tremendous blast to center off reliever Luis Tiant in the eighth.

McDowell, a fireballing southpaw making his third start since overcoming arm trouble, was lifted for a pinchhitter after allowing four hits, striking out nine and walking five in six innings.

"He's ready to go," Cleveland manager Birdie Tebbetts said. "He looked very good. His arm is sound again. I took him out because we were behind 1-0 and he had thrown 120-odd pitches."

Stange, who had a strained right elbow shortly after he joined the Red Sox, was tough in the clutch as the Indians had at least one runner in every inning except the third and ninth. Cleveland left 11 men on base.

"I got a little tired, but I had good stuff all the way," Stange said. "The arm feels fine now. It's a good thing the arm is sound. Otherwise, it never would have stood up today."

Before the game, the two clubs stood at attention in a moment of silent prayer for Charlie Fessenden, manager of the Detroit Tigers who died a few hours earlier.

Militant Priest to Continue Fight

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The Rev. William H. Dubay, a militant Roman Catholic clergyman suspended from his duties, says he will continue his fight for reinstatement.

At a news conference Tuesday, Father Dubay said his suspension has been affirmed by the chief administrative body of the Church.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Los Angeles archbishop, suspended Father Dubay last February, criticizing the priest for his outspoken views on racial matters.

Father Dubay asked the Pope in 1964 to remove Cardinal McIntyre, alleging the Cardinal had taken a weak stand on civil rights.

Rights Issue Reveals Big GOP Split

An AP News Analysis
By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights split among House Republicans rivaling that in the Democratic ranks was brought into the open by the voting on the 1966 civil rights bill.

The vote on final passage found 76 Republicans favoring it and 62 against it. On the key question of killing the open housing provision the GOP divided 86 for and 50 against. On a motion to provide housing exemptions believed necessary for final approval, the split was down the middle, 69 on each side.

Just a year ago when the House passed the Voting Rights Act, only 24 Republicans voted against it, while 112 supported it.

Unlike the Democratic split, which has a Southern and historic base, the Republicans are reacting to the current racial tensions in the North, and the split runs through the entire party in the House.

The trend shown by the voting is causing anguish among Republicans who cling to the tradition of Abraham Lincoln and who see the GOP doomed to a permanent and dwindling minority status if it further alienates the growing suburban and Negro vote.

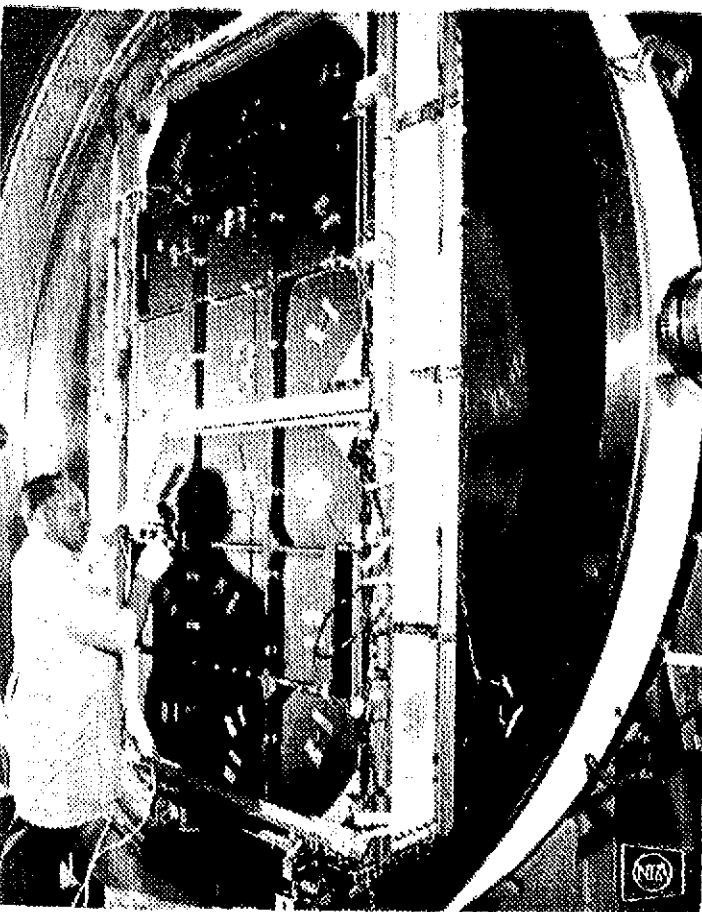

Of the 50 Republicans who voted to keep the housing provision in the bill, 26 were from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New England, and nearly all the rest were from the suburban areas of large Midwestern cities.

But the men now running the party, at least in the House, see a bright prospect for immediate political gain that makes opposition to civil rights legislation sound strategy.

That strategy led the five top GOP leaders, headed by Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, to take their stand with Southern segregationists on nearly every nonrecord vote to whittle down the bill.

They all voted solidly on the record to kill the housing provision, but on the final roll call, Ford and two of his aides voted for passage, while the other two opposed it to the end.

Ford's performance was viewed with dismay by many of the liberal Republicans who helped make him leader in the 1964 revolt against Rep. Charles W. Halleck of Indiana.

It also earned him stinging criticism from Clarence Mitchell, the NAACP's chief lobbyist for the bill, who accused Ford of duplicity. He said Ford talked to him one way on the housing section and voted the other.

Mitchell, a Republican, was so upset by the leadership's stand he wrote a letter to all Republican congressmen urging them to renounce their leaders and vote for the housing provision.

Irony in view of the leadership's position was the role of two Republicans in winning approval of the housing provision. Rep. Charles M. Mathias Jr., R-Md., fashioned the compromise section, and Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, squeezed out the few Republican votes that helped keep it in the bill at crucial stages.

Both come from small towns with no racial problems and stand to be hurt more than helped politically by their efforts. But both were convinced that the Republican party could not turn its back on one of the great social problems of the day.

Hoggard to Head Business Federation

DICK HOGGARD

Announcement of the appointment of Dick Hoggard of Hoggard's Electronic Service as chairman of the Hempstead & Nevada chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business was made today by Harry Bittick, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

To maintain the American way of life and our competitive enterprise system, the businessmen express their opinions on the ballots each month, and give them to Dick Hoggard, who tabulates the votes on a voluntary basis.

These tabulations are sent, with the signed ballots, directly to Congressman Hon. James W. Trimble at Washington, D. C., and State Senator McClellan.

These ballots are the only method by which independent business and professional people can keep in organized, direct personal contact with their national and state legislators on measures which affect free enterprise opportunities.

Nationalism Extremists

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The World Jewish Congress warned Tuesday that extreme nationalism is increasing in Germany and threatens world peace.

In a resolution adopted at the closing session of its fifth plenary meeting, the congress expressed "deep concern at the re-emergence in Germany of extreme nationalism in the political field led by former Nazis whose program and propaganda are fraught with the danger of stimulating an upsurge of neo-nazism." In another resolution, the congress urged a negotiated end to the war in Viet Nam, and a peaceful settlement of other conflicts.

Inspect Exterior Walls To Prevent Warping

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The exterior walls of wood houses should be inspected periodically. Clapboard siding will develop cracks and warped areas, and joints may open.

The result of such defects is the entrance of moisture which will cause paint to peel and blister and cause further damage such as rotting of the boards.

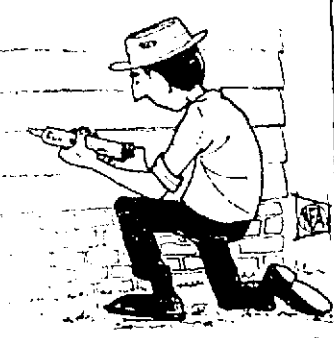

Like most home maintenance, repairs are simple if done early. Small cracks can be filled with calking compound or putty. If using white lead putty, coat the area with linseed oil first.

Boards that have just begun to warp can be nailed down. If a tiny gap remains between the nailed board and the one below, pack the opening with putty or calking.

Old clapboards are likely to Repair all siding before painting your house.

dry. When you nail them, they may split. To avoid this, drill pilot holes for the nails.

After nailing, countersink the heads and fill with putty. Sometimes a piece of clapboard is too rotted or cracked to be repaired. In such a case, replace the board. If you can remove the entire length the work will be easier, since there will be no cutting.

Barring this, you will have to cut out the damaged section without hurting the rest. A clapboard flush against the house is not the easiest thing to cut. Raise it slightly with wooden wedges driven carefully under the lower edge.

Use Handsaw

You can then use a handsaw to cut away the bad part of the board. A square-back saw will do the job more easily than an ordinary saw.

After the cuts have been made on both sides, pry up the board above with the wedges. Then tear away the damaged board. Split it away in sections if you want. If you have to use a chisel, then be careful that you don't damage the building paper underneath.

Chances are a strip of wood will remain under the board above. Take a hacksaw blade and cut the nails holding it and remove.

Get a new piece of siding and cut it so that it fits exactly. Slide it into place. When you can't slide it any farther, tap it in with a piece of wood between the siding and the hammer to prevent damage.

Nail along the lower edge. Set the nails as described be-placed. Use a hacksaw blade to cut the nails by slipping it under the shingle.

To hold the new shingle in place, put a few dabs of roofing cement on the back side.

While you are inspecting the exterior of your house, check joints where walls meet in inside corners, around doors and windows. Clean out old calking if it has begun to crumble or shrink and replace.

All siding should be repaired before painting your house.

WHAT'S YOUR PHYSICAL FITNESS RATING??

Make the Swedish Test

The Swedes are exercise-happy! Calisthenics are taught in school from the first grade, and a nationwide Voluntary Gymnastics Program has resulted in Keep Fit classes and clubs everywhere. Competitive Gymnastics for Adults; Housewives "Gymnastics"; even a Senior Citizens' Program, their aim and motto being Gymnastics For All, irrespective of age or skill.

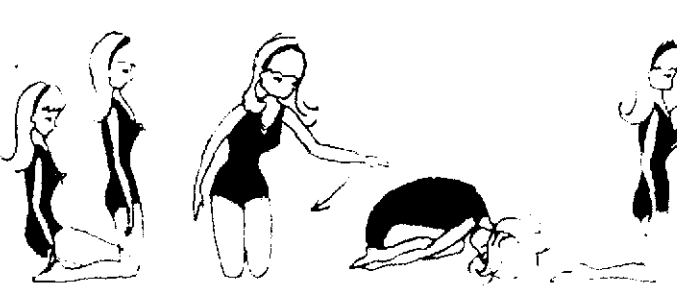

Modern Swedish Gymnastics consist partly of free-standing exercises and they use tests like this one both in schools and in their Voluntary Program. An intriguing, dance-like pattern is created from the more or less familiar movements. They are linked together for overall benefit as you go, instead of concentrating on one muscle at a time. Result? Well look at those Swedish Movie Stars! Try it while sunning yourself this summer, or take the family on a picnic and let everybody get into the act! Your "Lilla troll" will have fun imitating you imitating the "Svenske". Be sure to have a bottle of bronztan along so that no-one gets sunburned. Bronztan was tested in medically supervised clinics which proved that it would give up to 4 hours protection without burn. Safe for tots, too.

Defining the Middle Class

We don't hear much about the great "middle class" of the American society any more. The middle class man has almost become the forgotten man although he is still definitely with us.

There was a time when critics of society took pleasure in attacking the middle class as the repository of puritan virtues, the fountainhead of anti-intellectualism, and the fortress of parochialism and prejudice.

But not any more. Maybe it's because the middle class affluence is so widespread in this country that the old labels simply became rather meaningless. And we also strongly suspect that the middle class is winning sympathy because it's carrying the brunt of the tax load and all of the ideas and programs hatched in Washington.

We recently read good criteria for determining whether a person falls into the middle class and if you're wondering whether you're in this most American of all classes, here are the guidelines to make your determination:

— If taxes — income, property, sales, excise, and hidden varieties — give you constant pain, that's part of the middle class symptoms.

— If your son or daughter is not eligible to earn college money in part-time work because your income exceeds the maximum set by the government youth opportunity program, sorry sir, you're middle class.

— If you don't qualify for rent subsidies, welfare assistance, and free medical care, you must be middle class.

— If you have to pay all of your bills you can be pretty sure you're middle class.

— If you dabble in stocks but own so few of them that a dip in the market really doesn't shake you, then you're definitely stuck in the middle class.

The middle class person is the forgotten man of the 20th Century, that is, until April 15 every year. For Uncle Sam knows even if he doesn't admit it, that it is the thousands of dollars from the millions of the middle class, not the millions of dollars from the thousands of the rich, that keep this country operating and paying the tab for the Great Society.

No Tricks, Says Russian Paper

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government welcomes foreign visitors, "but we shall not tolerate guests with skeleton keys and false-bottomed suitcases," warns Izvestia, the government paper.

In an article Wednesday, the paper charged Baptist ministers attempted to smuggle in Bibles; a Chicago businessman tried to smuggle rare Soviet books out; Japanese tourists tried to smuggle in gold plate, and Syrian tourists tried to smuggle rubles out.

Communist China Extends Purge

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist party extended its purge to the economic field today, denouncing party economist Sun Yeh-fang as a bourgeois revisionist who tried to "turn Socialist enterprises into capitalist ones."

Sun, former director of the Academy of Science's Institute of Economics, is the first prominent economist to be named in the purge. Previously the prime targets have been military and cultural leaders.

Big School Problems Eased Some

Issues involving two school districts in Hempstead County have been only partially resolved. The situation at Washington was eased some when the U.S. Department of Education relaxed a ruling it made last month.

The new ruling will allow seniors from the Washington District to attend and graduate from Hope High School. The ruling last month prohibited the practice of sending white students from the district to Hope. This involved about 75 pupils, including some 10 seniors.

The new ruling involves only the seniors. Thus many families in the Washington district reportedly are making plans to establish residence in Hope to avoid sending their children to all-Negro Lincoln High School in Washington. An estimated 15 more subjects are offered in the Hope school than in the Washington school.

The Guernsey School District has a two-fold problem. The same ruling last month by the Education Department would send all Negro students in the district to the all-white Guernsey High School. They now attend schools at Hope and Washington.

One big obstacle at Guernsey is the lack of a school bus.

Now Is Time to Bone Up on That Campus Gobbledygook

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — School bells will peal next month for about a quarter of the American population.

So the wise student or teacher will start now boning up ahead of time on his double talk. Whether one is entering kindergarten or conducting a post-graduate seminar, he will find nothing more useful than double talk. It is the indispensable tool of modern learning.

Campus gobbledygook has the same general purpose as the gobbledygook used in business or politics. It may employ different words, but it has the same basic goals: to gloss over profound ignorance with an air of profound wisdom, and to cover up what you're really thinking.

For the beginner, here are a few examples of campus double-talk followed by actual meanings:

"Perhaps you'll have to pay special attention to Jimmy, Miss Cortez. He comes from a culturally deprived area." Don't turn your back on the little monster. He probably carries a switchblade knife.

"Remember, class, what you are to be, you are now becoming." And from the looks of you, I'd suspect most of you will become flunkies.

"I assure you it isn't easy to become a high school principal." In my case, I had

Woman Hurt in Accident Last Night

A Corn Belt truck loaded with chickens skidded and overturned in the path of an auto about 10:30 last night on Highway 67 east, inside Hope City Limits and one person was injured.

The accident occurred during a heavy rain. The driver of the truck, Cecil England, told officers he had to brake suddenly in order to avoid hitting a car he was following.

The truck skidded and overturned in the path of an oncoming car driven by Bobby Allen, Hope. Mrs. Allen was shaken up and had to be hospitalized. She was not thought to be seriously injured. Mr. Allen and the Allen baby were not injured.

Both vehicles were badly damaged. Most of the chickens were saved. City Officers Shirley and Milam investigated.

Greek Liner Is Seized for Debts

PIRAEUS, Greece (AP) — The 5,500-ton Greek liner Achilleus was seized for debts when it returned here Tuesday from an Aegean cruise. It had 57 passengers aboard.

A sister ship, the Agamemnon, with 150 passengers aboard, was seized earlier this week but it was allowed to continue its cruise after an agreement with the creditors.

New York police said a shooting in a mostly white section of Brooklyn came after a crowd of about 40 whites chased three Negroes into an apartment house where one of them had recently moved. The crowd, most in their teens or early 20s, stood in front of the building, officers said, shouting, "Come out, nigger, or we'll burn you out!" until the three Negroes emerged.

One of the three was carrying a rifle which he fired into the crowd, police said, wounding Gerald Vabnick, 22, and Peter Guardino, 21. Both were in fair condition at a hospital.

Police reinforcements quickly dispersed the crowd after the shooting. They arrested Theodore Watson, 20, and charged him with felonious assault in the shooting.

Decided to Accept the Invitation

LONDON (AP) — The invitation was on British government stationery: A dinner party was being held in London in honor of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, deputy premier of South Viet Nam.

Among the prominent politicians who showed up Wednesday night at the Dorchester Hotel was Edward Heath, leader of the Conservative opposition.

Heath and the others were stopped by embarrassed security officers who explained that it was a private party and the invitations were forgeries.

Heath burst out laughing and said, "The invitation looked a bit scruffy but I decided to accept it."

Scotland Yard launched an investigation into the hoax, believed the work of a British group opposing the Viet Nam war.

Violence in Many Areas of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Negro man was shot, and fire bombs and other missiles were thrown at store windows and passing cars as violence broke out for the second straight night in a racially mixed neighborhood on the East Side of Detroit.

There also was violence in New York's Brooklyn and in Grenada, Miss.

The battle lines were being drawn in Washington over the new civil rights bill which has passed the House and now goes to the Senate.

Tyrone Powers, 26, a Negro, was wounded in the shoulder, he said, when he was shot from a passing car in Detroit. He said three white men were in the car.

Riot-trained police, helmeted and carrying shotguns and rifles with fixed bayonets, kept most of the troublemakers within a five-block area.

They arrested 32 Negroes and seven whites — five boys and two girls — who police said were found with homemade fire bombs in their car.

A white motorist was injured when a brick smashed through a window of his car. The plate glass fronts of several stores were smashed.

Marines Kill 121 Enemy at Da Nang

By GEORGE McARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines pursued an estimated 6,000 North Vietnamese troops in bloodied rice paddies near Da Nang today after some 750 Leathernecks fought off encirclement by twice their number through the night.

The Marines killed at least 121 Communists while their own casualties were moderate, a spokesman said.

Off South Viet Nam's northern coast, three American planes mistakenly attacked an 82-foot U.S. Coast Guard patrol boat, killing two Coast Guardsmen and injuring five men, including a British correspondent.

The attack occurred less than 36 hours after two American jets bombed and strafed a friendly Mekong Delta village from which the American command said, the Viet Cong were firing on a U.S. spotter plane. The attack killed 24 Vietnamese and wounded 82, most of them villagers.

While jets supported the Marine drive near Da Nang, Air Force B52s and other American planes pounded the Central Highland area west of Pleiku where outnumbered South Korean infantrymen helped by five U.S. tanks killed 170 North Vietnamese Wednesday in their bloodiest action of the war.

Scattered firefights were reported today in the plateau area where thousands of U.S., Korean and Vietnamese troops are in action to forestall a possible late monsoon season sweep by the North Vietnamese across the highlands to the sea.

Bad flying weather limited U.S. air operations over North Viet Nam to 98 missions Wednesday and kept the American fliers clear of the hotly defended Haiphong-Hanoi industrial belt.

Instead, the Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots worked over coastal targets in the southern panhandle, hitting fuel dumps, bridges, barges and a 30-car train, a U.S. spokesman said.

American aircraft were reported lost after a total of 10 planes were downed on Sunday and Monday.

U.S. Air Force and Marine pilots flew 358 single-plane sorties in the south Wednesday and were out in force again today — hitting hard in support of the infantrymen in the Pleiku area and the Marines southwest of Da Nang.

The Marine battalion fought the Communists for seven hours Wednesday at such close quarters that the Americans were unable to use their artillery.

Air Strike Is Causing Irritation

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the worst messes of the year — the airlines strike — is beginning to cause the kind of irritation that in the end may put tight strings on both management and labor.

The machinists' union has been on strike against five airlines over a month. This shutdown represents 60 per cent of the country's air services.

But this is an election year and Congress, not anxious to antagonize labor, has been hemming and hawing about passing legislation to force the strikers back to work until a settlement is reached.

The machinists say the airline companies figure they can hit a better bargain if Congress forces the strikers back to work and therefore for the past week have made no new offers. There was no bargaining last week, but talks resumed Monday.

Johnson Calls for Unity of Democrats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jim Johnson told party officials Wednesday that a Democratic victory in November will show the world that "the Democratic Party of Arkansas is unified, solidified and still the only effective party in Arkansas."

Johnson, the party's nominee for governor, wasted little time in making a move to unite the party for his race against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

His headquarters released a telegram Johnson sent to the 75 chairmen of county Democratic committees, in which he said he genuinely appreciated their "many loyal and substantial efforts and contributions toward furthering the best interests of the Democratic Party of Arkansas."

The day after Johnson won the nomination over Frank Holt by about 15,000 votes, Rockefeller opened his campaign headquarters here.

Rockefeller predicted that Johnson would have to be a miracle man to unite the Democratic Party for the November general election.

He said it made no difference to him who won the Democratic nomination. "I'm not running against any individual, but on a program for Arkansas."

Although Rockefeller doesn't formally open his 1966 general election campaign until next Tuesday at Winthrop (Little River County), about 400 supporters were on hand as he opened his Little Rock headquarters.

He declined to assess the political philosophy of Johnson, but said mockingly that Johnson sounded like a conservative Republican in his last television speech before the Democratic runoff.

His own philosophy, Rockefeller said, is bound up in belief in free enterprise, the right of the individual and fiscal stability.

Rockefeller said he put no stock in reports that Republicans helped nominate Johnson because he would be easier for Rockefeller to defeat.

Asked if he still felt he could win in November, Rockefeller pointed out that he got more votes (254,561) in his 1964 race against Gov. Orval Faubus than Johnson got (210,646) in the primary runoff.

"And," said Rockefeller, "I intend to add to my vote total." Rockefeller said he had visited all 75 counties at least once since 1964, and said that because of this he knows "infinitely more" about the state's needs than Johnson.

He recalled that he was criticized during the 1964 campaign for talking in generalities.

"I'm now a candidate who's done my homework," he said, waving eight volumes of reports from which he will make recommendations for state improvements.

Earlier, Johnson said in a victory statement that "the nation knows that Arkansas wants to see a renewal of our basic constitutional system of government in Washington and good, clean, honest, state government at home. I intend to continue this vigorous campaign to give the people what they richly deserve."

In a reply to Holt's congratulations on his victory, Johnson said:

"Your gracious telegraphic message is appreciated from the bottom of my heart. Please join with me and all the other Democrats of Arkansas in an all-out effort for a Democratic victory in Arkansas in November. I need your invaluable assistance and welcome your counsel and suggestions. Please also be assured of my kindest personal regards and best wishes for you and your entire family."

Johnson returned Wednesday to his hometown of Conway to rest after the long night of watching election returns, his headquarters said.

Mary Brooks Picken on Sewing

New Fabric Process
Insulates Draperies

YEAR-ROUND SPRING is captured in this living room designed by Edmund Motyka, A.I.D., to bring the joys of the outside inside without any of the discomforts of the real outdoors. Walling off unwanted heat and cold is the job of the draperies made of a self-lined Roc-ionized fabric that insulates all year round to prevent fading of fresh colors and keep room temperature comfortable even when the windows are exposed to direct sun rays. This fabric is available for sew-at-home styling and may be handled by the sewer in the same way as chintz or cretonne.

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Recently I learned about a new fabric treatment called Roc-ionized. This new formula insulates fabric and makes it wind and rain proof.

In addition, fabrics treated with this new process are dry-cleanable, hand or machine-washable, guaranteed against stretching, sagging, shrinking or creasing. And these advantages make the fabric ideal for draperies.

Ask for this specially treated fabric at your local drapery fabric counter. It has only recently been made available to the home market and is moderately priced.

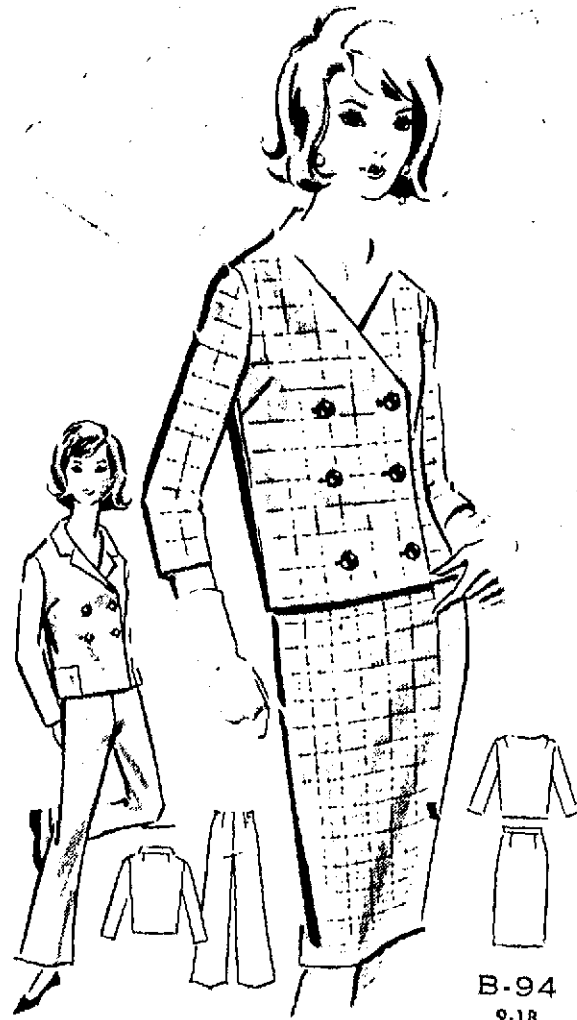

You can sew the treated fabric just as you would work with chintz, cretonne or Indian Head. Use pleat tape and pins for the drapery top. If you line your draperies with satene which has been similarly treated, you will have good looks plus built-in climate control.

Leave the windows open when it rains, the fabric will not be harmed. In fact, the Roc-ionized lining protects it from dampness, mildew or any weather damage.

The curtains, couch, bolster roll, chair seat covers and cushions shown in the photograph all are made of fabric treated by this new process.

If you're reluctant to spend the money or the time that sewing draperies will entail until you're sure of the advantages of this new process why not invest in half a yard, make a cover for a cushion and see the pluses for yourself before you take on the large job of window decorating.

Home Pix Prove
Fun—But Organize

By AILEEN SNODDY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The family room is a true catch-all for activities. It is ideal to set up to show home movies or slides and truly takes on the larger aspects of home entertaining.

A major problem, other than boring regular guests with the same slides, is the time it takes to set up a viewing center. This time leads many to drum their fingertips on tables but can be cut quickly with a permanent home viewing arrangement.

A family room with a kitchenette or soda bar offers an immediate base for a projector and houses all equipment needed. A screen, either portable or a built-in slide version, is set up at the opposite end of the room. Film or slides are kept in cabinet space near the bar or screen.

The simplest screen installation is similar to a window shade and may be raised and lowered when needed. More permanent is a sliding panel screen set in grooves of wood or a metal track which can be bought at a local home supply store.

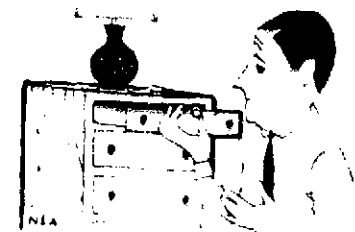

Home photography specialists for Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N.Y., give this tip on selecting the proper screen for home entertainment viewing. If the room is wide and people may be sitting at one side at an angle from the screen, a matte or lenticular screen is better than a beaded screen. Picture brightness for viewers dims as people move away from the beam of the projector when a beaded screen is used.

The experts also point out that the home projectionist avoids "keystoning" or a wedge-shaped picture by slanting the screen so its surface is perpendicular to the beam of the projector. This usually means a slight tilting of the screen.

If there is going to be sound or background music, set up speakers at each side of the projection screen. These can be part of the hi-fi or stereo system or be specially built-in. But place them above the height of the viewers' heads. When seated, and close to the screen. This makes the sound appear to be part of the movie.

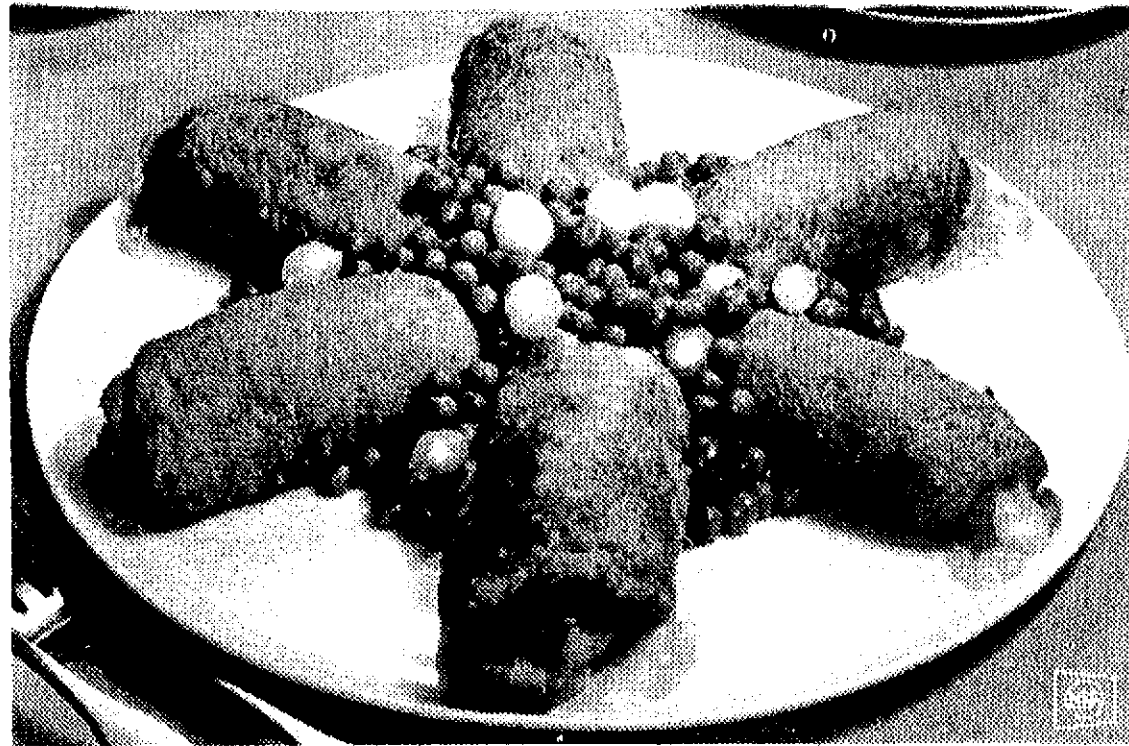

A switch placed near the projection location, to turn off lamps or ceiling light and one to control the projector, saves hopping up and down in front of guests.

Another simple key to setting up a viewing room successfully is to use heavy draperies or blackout shades so films or slides may be shown during the day to school classes, the bridge club or during Brownie meetings.

Veal Variation Tempts Taste

BAKED VEAL ROLLS brighten hot weather appetites.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Thinking up meals to tempt the family in hot weather is no easy job. Your best bet, you'll find, is a new variation on a familiar food, such as beef, veal, poultry, etc.

Try these veal rolls—they are stuffed with very thin slices of cheese and ham and deliciously seasoned with a packaged chicken coating mix. Or for another meal with a new twist, try the beef and corn casserole. It, too, is appetizingly different.

BAKED STUFFED VEAL
(6 servings)

- 1 pound boned and trimmed veal steak, cut in 6 equal pieces
- 6 thin slices cooked ham
- 6 thin slices Swiss cheese
- 1 package seasoned coating mix for chicken

Thursday, August 11, 1966
Pound veal to about 1 1/2-inch thickness. Top each with a slice of ham and a slice of cheese. Roll up; secure with wooden pick. Coat with seasoned coating mix as directed on package. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 400 degrees for about 20 minutes or until tender.

BEEF AND CORN
CASSEROLE
(6 servings)

- 2 cups diced cooking beef
- 4 slices bread
- 3 eggs, well-beaten
- 1 pound can cream-style corn
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 cups creamed cottage cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- Paprika

Tear bread into small pieces. Mix together bread and all ingredients except paprika. Pour mixture into an 8-inch square baking pan. Sprinkle top with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 50 minutes. Serve hot.

'Juveniles' Are Big Business

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—NEA—The grandmotherly woman housed briefly in the Hilton here spoke gently of love and brotherhood and the special imaginative world of children.

Meanwhile, people in the book world who know her name spoke aggressively of sales. Her publisher, Farrar, Straus & Giroux, and others were getting their ledgers ready to reap a windfall from the stimulus of her writing accomplishment.

For Elizabeth Borton de Trevino had just received the John Newbery medal, called by an editor of Atheneum whose children's book won the award last year, "more important than the Pulitzer or even the Nobel."

The Newbery, given since 1922 for the most distinguished children's book, and its companion, the Caldecott medal for distinguished illustration, "probably sell more books in the United States than any other book award."

In the $125 million market of "juveniles," as children's books are called in the publishing trade, the book awards this year perhaps are more important than ever before. And their influence will continue to gain for at least another five years.

The juvenile sales potential has been pruned by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act in which $100 million a year was appropriated specifically for school and public library materials. Already, according to one of the giants in publishing, $75 to $80 million has gone for juvenile titles.

Publishers admit to printing backlists of books to meet the demand from libraries now that there is more money to help librarians fill their bookshelves. The added importance to children's book publishers stems from the fact that book stores are a small facet of sales. It's the library that counts.

The appropriation of federal funds to hype interest and sales in the juvenile field is only one factor.

"Children are getting away from the all-seeing eye of television," another book editor explained. "They are reading more and the increased demand for books definitely is not due merely to the population explosion." He cites the greater interest of parents in books as they become more educated as a prime factor. Juvenile books, too, took on a new look in drawings and story material in the last 10 years. "We are creating more readers, better readers as we make better books."

Mrs. Trevino's award-winning story, "I, Juan de Pareja," reflects the change in content. It is the biography of Pareja, a Negro slave who became the apprentice of the Spanish painter Velasquez, was freed and became a noted artist. She is fond of the story of Juan because of the idealism it engenders. "If youths learn to live together and be affectionate, then this will inspire them to love," she believes.

The story touches her personal life since she went to Mexico on assignment from the Boston Herald 32 years ago, met a Mexican businessman and married.

When first in Mexico she said it was difficult for her to adjust to the different social attitudes and language. Now she counsels others who come to her for advice with, "Nobody can adjust to social patterns intellectually. It is like falling in love. Do it emotionally. Then find out why afterwards."

She relates this to racial problems with "be neighbors first and the rest will come."

The recognition of her topic in view of national and international racial upheavals reflects the realistic change in the book world.

"There was too much sweetness and light," an editor explained. "Now the books often deal with formally taboo subjects, some even grim. The stories combine fantasy and imagination which is the precious world of the young reader but nonfiction leans heavily to science, math and anthropology."

Camping Out? Cook Simply In Casserole

Convenience foods rate high when you're spending vacation at a cottage on the lake or the little house in the woods. For easy preparation, use pantry shelf foods in a casserole.

Campers Casserole

- 1 jar (5 ounces) dried beef
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 package (7 ounces) elbow spaghetti
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup chopped ripe olives

Cut dried beef. Reserve 1/4 cup for topping. Brown remaining dried beef and onions in lard or drippings. Season with pepper. Cook spaghetti (without salt) until tender. Drain.

Melt butter or margarine, add flour and blend together. Add milk gradually. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Add cheese and stir until melted.

Combine dried beef, onions, spaghetti, cheese sauce and olives. Pour into greased 2-quart casserole. Top with 1/4 cup dried beef. Bake in a slow oven (300 F.) for 45 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

Coals Increase Lobster Flavor

LOBSTER TAILS are easily adaptable to the grill.

Frozen lobster tails have many virtues. One of them is the way they take to the charcoal grill. Another is their tender response to a marinade of unsweetened pineapple juice, minced onion, oil and vinegar.

1/2 cup cider vinegar
2 cups oil
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 cup minced onion
1 1/2 cups unsweetened pineapple juice

YIELD 3 1/2 cups sauce
Take frozen tails and cut down through middle of hard shell with sharp knife. Grasp tail in both hands and open flat butterfly style. Combine all other ingredients and beat until well blended. Place rock lobster tails shell-side down in a shallow pan. Pour marinade over the tails and let stand

DAVID MCCALLUM

ROGER MOORE

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—NEA—David McCallum was found sitting behind a desk in his office-dressing room hideaway at MGM in Hollywood, his jacket off, his shoulder holster on, music sheets spread out around him.

While a crew was lighting a gigantic set depicting a luxurious apartment house for an episode of The Man From U.N.C.L.E., David was calmly waiting his call by composing music.

I am scoring "Three Bites of the Apple," a film which I made in Italy," he said.

By now, it shouldn't be a surprise to McCallum fans that David is a talented musician. He has had two albums released by Capitol records. His early years were devoted to the study of music, and his father was for many seasons concertmaster of both the London and Royal Philharmonic Orchestras under Sir Thomas Beecham.

Branching out into music is all part of the McCallum Plan. He's a determined, doughty Scot whose entire career is part of a plan.

Things have to be planned. Right now I am trying to sort myself out so that David and Ilya are divisible. When I narrated that show about Beethoven, one newspaper printed "Ilya reads Beethoven and gets away with it." I would rather it had read, "David reads Beethoven, and incidentally, he plays Ilya."

It is important that the current excitement isn't dissipated entirely in U.N.C.L.E. I want to do other things, but what one always wants is to carry a given success along."

David is not overjoyed that The Man From U.N.C.L.E. will be joined on the NBC-TV schedule by The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. "I have no intention of appearing in the other series, but—and that's the best way of putting it."

Roger Moore, who calls himself a Junior League Beagle, likes it when he is the star of a show.

"When you're not the star, but only a guest, it's an awful feeling. You walk on the floor only to learn you are not the one everyone is worrying about. You see someone come on the set with a mirror and you figure it's for you to make a last-minute check, and they go past you to the star."

Roger is used to being a star. He plays The Saint in the highly successful syndicated series.

Reactions to him, even with a gentleman's haircut, are of the ripping-off-clothes variety in England. His popularity in this country has never quite reached such heights, although he had a Hollywood fling during which he made several movies, and appeared as a regular on Maverick.

You wonder what it would take to get him back to Hollywood to stay and the handsome Englishman replies, "An offer. I love California. I left Hollywood to go to Italy to make a comedy, but after we filmed for a week, I learned it was a drama. That was a terrible moment."

Roger appeared in another British series, Ivanhoe. "We went on location and hit rain. For three weeks I sat around in a suit of armor waiting for the sun to come out. Finally the front office, alarmed at the costs that were mounting up, gave us orders to shoot, rain or not. Our wardrobe man got all excited and rushed to the director and said, 'We can't shoot in the rain. Roger's armor will rust.'"

"It didn't. We had a lot of oil with us. I had a little oil inside, too."

Shrimp Curried in a Hurry

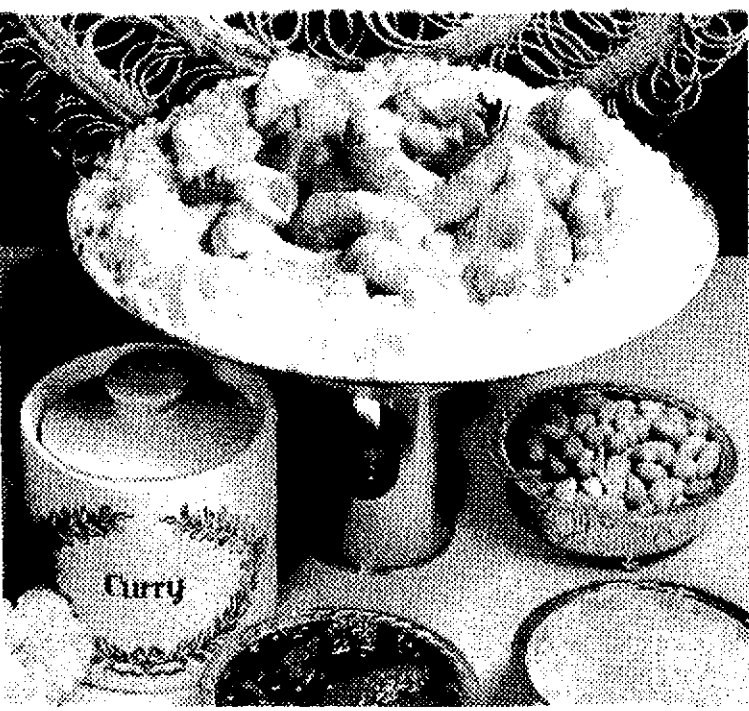

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For a sultry summer night, seafood curry is an appetite-awakening surprise. It is easy to prepare. Using frozen peeled and deveined shrimp makes it even easier.

This "hurry up" recipe calls for the minimum of fuss or fove watching. Just what you want in hot weather, isn't it?

- HURRY CURRIED SHRIMP
(6 servings)
- 2 packages (14 ounces each) frozen peeled and deveined shrimp
 - 1/4 teaspoon instant garlic powder
 - 1 teaspoon minced onion
 - 1 teaspoon water
 - 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 2 1/2 tablespoons flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
 - 1/2 cups milk
 - Hot cooked rice

Cook shrimp as package label directs adding garlic powder to water in which shrimp is cooked. Drain; set aside. Mix instant onion and water; let stand 8 minutes for onion to soften. In saucepan, saute onion and curry powder in butter, over moderate heat about 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in flour, salt and black pepper. Gradually blend in milk; bring to boiling point over moderate heat, stirring constantly; simmer until thickened, about 2 minutes. Add cooked shrimp. Heat slowly until hot, about 5 minutes. Serve on hot cooked rice; garnish with parsley flakes.

Milk Concentrate Coming Soon

BOSTON (AP) — You'll soon be able to take a carton of milk concentrate out of the freezer, add water, shake and drink.

Frozen milk concentrate should be available to the consumer within a year, says Dr. William D. Powrie, a University of Wisconsin food scientist.

Killed in Truck, Tractor Collision

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Ernest Mark Vinson, 69, of Magnolia was killed Monday when his car and a tractor-trailer truck collided in a heavy rainstorm, State Trooper Dean Friend reported.

The accident occurred on Arkansas 82, about six miles west of Waldo in Columbia County, Friend said. The truck driver, J. T. Shackelford Jr., 22, of Magnolia, was not injured.

Food for Americans

Cocoa Bread Tasty Old-Fashioned Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Feeling in an old-fashioned mood? Hungry for something that isn't "instant" or "frozen ready to heat" or made with a mix? Then try this unusual baking-soda rich moist bread full of whole cranberry sauce, raisins and nuts, orange rind and cocoa. Very much as your grandmother or great-grandmother might have made it, and equally gratifying.

CRANBERRY COCOA BREAD

(Makes 1 9x5x3-inch loaf)

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------|
| 1 can (1-pound) whole berry cranberry sauce | 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour |
| 1/2 cup raisins | 2 teaspoons baking soda |
| Grated rind of 1 orange | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 3 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1/4 cup cocoa |
| 1 cup sugar | 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 1 egg | 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 1/2 cup milk | 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts |

In a small saucepan combine cranberry sauce, raisins and orange rind. Cook over low heat stirring constantly for 5 minutes. Cool and set aside. Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Cream butter until light and fluffy. Gradually cream in sugar. Add egg beaten with milk. Blend well. Sift flour with baking soda, salt, cocoa, and spices. Fold in chopped walnuts. Add the dry ingredients alternately with the cranberry mixture. Blend well after each addition. Pour mixture into a well-greased and floured 9 x 5 x 3-inch pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 1 hour and 20 minutes, or until loaf tests done. After 45 minutes place a piece of foil lightly over the top to prevent overbrowning. Remove from pan and cool thoroughly before serving. Slice thinly.

Serve with 1 8-ounce package cream cheese beaten with 1/4-cup cranberry juice cocktail for a spread.

Leftover Ham Stars for Lunch In Salad Meal

All leftover ham doesn't get into the food grinder for a sandwich filling. Some of it does very well when diced for an unusual salad for luncheon.

Pineapple is a time-honored accompaniment with ham, but this one has novelty in the form of peanuts as well as ripe olives for surprise contrast. This will look especially pretty served in a gelatin ring mold of either red cherry or black cherry gelatin, says home economist, Reba Staggs.

Hawaiian Ham Salad

- 2 cups cooked diced ham
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup pitted small ripe olives
- 1/2 cup pineapple chunks
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
- Lettuce leaves

Combine ham, celery, olives and pineapple. Mix mayonnaise with lemon juice and add to ham mixture. Chill in refrigerator about 1 hour. Mix in peanuts before serving. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowl or in center of gelatin ring mold. 6 servings.

SUMMERTIME IS SALAD TIME

When the heat's on outside, that's no time to be inside cooking over a hot range. You can get out of the kitchen if you serve an attractive Meal-In-A-Bowl Salad on your patio or porch. Fresh greens and tomatoes, cooked chicken and bacon, plus hard-cooked eggs and avocado combine to make a light but filling meal. Then toss the salad with Good Seasons Onion Salad Dressing Mix, a dressing that contains all the necessary herbs and spices so you don't have to add any of your own.

MEAL-IN-A-BOWL SALAD

- 1 medium head lettuce
- 1 small bunch chichory
- 1 head romaine
- 1 bunch watercress
- 3 peeled medium tomatoes, diced
- 1 medium avocado, pared and diced
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, diced
- 2 pound bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken
- 1 to 1 1/2 cup crumbled bleu cheese or grated process American cheese
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped chives
- 1 envelope onion salad dressing mix
- Vinegar, water, and salad oil

Shred each of the greens and spread in layers in a large salad bowl. Arrange remaining ingredients, except salad dressing in rows of contrasting colors over top of greens. Prepare salad dressing mix with vinegar, water, and salad oil as directed on envelope. To serve salad, sprinkle part of the salad dressing over only one section at a time, mixing lightly. Then serve from that section first, keeping the rest of the design intact. Makes about 10 generous entree servings.
